How to read it. Curious, not salesy. “Guess which one” is a real question — ask it and leave a beat. Two gaps where you say nothing: the twist at the top and the tap in the middle. That’s the camera doing the proving, so leave them properly empty.

0.0 [silence — the twist. Both chains at once. One kinks, the box chain springs back.]

1.8 “Guess which one.”

3.4 “In a photo you genuinely cannot tell.”

6.2 “The difference is the link.”

8.4 “That one’s open. This one’s a box chain.”

11.4 “Square links, so it holds its shape.”

14.2 [silence — the tap. Wrist under water, three seconds, out.]

16.8 “Surgical steel underneath the gold. Anti-tarnish sealed.”

19.6 “Two years on the plating.”

21.6 “Chain twenty-one forty-nine. Bracelet nineteen ninety-nine.”

24.4 “Seven-day returns. COD. Tap Shop Now.”

Never “waterproof” · “18K gold” · “link in bio” · any claim about how long you’ve worn them Always a tap, never a pool
