

I ALMOST DIDN'T ORDER IT

29S • 9:16 • CLEAN ROOM, WINDOW LIGHT, TRIPOD • BRACELET ON THE WRIST FROM FRAME ONE

0.0 [no voice] PICTURE Wearing it, sleeve pushed back, already moving as she looks up. Don't start static.

0.4 "I almost didn't order this." PICTURE Flat. Honest. No smile yet. Half a second of nothing after it.

2.4 "Sixteen hundred rupees for something that looks like this felt wrong." PICTURE Macro on the bracelet — unhurried, the pavé link catching. Let the viewer agree with her.

6.5 "Like there had to be a catch." PICTURE Back to her. Beat.

9.1 "The catch is it's plated. It's not solid gold and it never said it was." PICTURE Straight to camera, completely level. The line the whole ad rests on — don't soften it, don't rush it.

14.7 "18K over surgical steel, anti-tarnish sealed, two years on the plating." PICTURE Macro: links rotating, then the clasp closing with the live click.

18.8 "Fifteen ninety-nine. Free delivery. Seven days to send it back." PICTURE Worn, whole arm, daylight. Updated — the price dropped and shipping is free now.

22.5 "Then I went back for the necklace." PICTURE Cut to both pieces worn together — wrist and neck in one frame.

25.1 "Take two and it's ten percent off." PICTURE Hold on the two pieces. Check this number against the bag on the day — see the note below.

27.7 [end card, 1.3s] PICTURE Over live footage of the wrist — never a flat colour, never silence. Music resolves and it loops.

NEVER SAY

- "Solid gold" or "18K gold" — it is 18K gold-tone plated over surgical steel, and the script says so out loud, which is its whole strength
- "Waterproof" — the FAQ allows incidental contact only
- "Only a few left" or "ends tonight"
- "Link in bio" — it is a paid ad with a real button
- Any other brand's name

#Ad goes in the top third of the frame from the first second, held about ten seconds. The bottom third is covered by the app. Required for gifted as well as paid.

Confirm before she records. 1 • The site says BUY2 = 10%; the brief said 20%. The script uses ten, because that is what the bag gives her. 2 • This is a first-person purchase story — if the pieces were gifted, swap 0.4 to "I didn't expect much from this" and 22.5 to "And if you're getting more than one —".
